A discussion around career development for our students

- Students don’t have enough experience in their field of interest but also do not have enough credits to do an internship or get a job in the field. Service learning is a possibility in some areas. Another idea is to connect with employers. They can offer informational interviews and job shadowing options. CTE advisory boards may be able to help. Some have internships or apprenticeships.
- The UHCC has a Job Center Online website. There are conversations with other counselors around student careers and employment at the system level.
- Another idea is to have flipped career fairs. Focus on one field and ask the employers to come.
- Mock interviews are important.
- Is there a need to provide work clothing for students who are going on interviews? The College can be a referring agency for Dress for Success for women. Stipends for career clothing?
