

Holoholo Kohelepelepe

Kūalahale, a collaborative grant between Honolulu and Kapi'olani Community Colleges, invites you to join us for Kīpaipai Aloha ~ Holoholo Wahi Waiwai, a series of field trips to learn about and build relationships with community organizations who MĀLAMA [care for] and HO'OLOLI [renew] life-giving WAIWAI [resources, wealth] at special places on O'ahu

As we holoholo [walk, travel] into Kohelepelepe and visit Koko Crater Botanical Garden, we will learn how Kamapua'a, Pele, and her sister, Kapo'ulakīna'u, are connected to this volcanic formation. Plants from Hawai'i and other parts of the world will greet us and reveal their origins, stories, and relationships within this precious natural and cultural resource
